SunWize Technologies Expanding Dealer Sales
Appoints Kim Kalisch as Director of Distributed Power Sales

San Jose, CA October 13, 2008 – SunWize Technologies, Inc. has appointed Kim Kalisch as the company's Director of Distributed Power Sales, in charge of the dealer/contractor channel for the Distributed Power Group. The assignment signifies SunWize's commitment to continually improving processes and practices vital to customer service and satisfaction.

Ms. Kalisch was recently a Vice President for Wachovia Bank for twenty-two years. At Wachovia, she focused on wholesale mortgage sales working directly with independent brokers, thereby gaining an in-depth understanding of dealer relationships from all perspectives. Prior to that, she was a territory manager where she handled customer service, operations, employee development and credit risk.

"SunWize has the most talented team in the PV market. Everyone here is passionately committed to providing industry leading customer service and continuous improvements to quality and value," states Ms. Kalisch. "I look forward to helping SunWize continue its record growth in both sales while maintaining profitability and the spirit and culture unique to this company."

Executive Vice President, David Kaltsas adds, "Kim will be providing the necessary structure and processes for the ongoing satisfaction of our dealer channel and the growth of SunWize. Her primary responsibilities will be as an advocate for the dealer sales managers, the voice of our customers, and to be the liaison between the sales team and all other SunWize departments. Maintaining the industry's best professionalism, service, and support will continue to be our goal."

SunWize Technologies, Inc., a subsidiary of Mitsui & Co. (U.S.A.), Inc., specializes in the design and manufacture of solar energy systems, product distribution, and associated project development.
